

The person who has the greatest influence on my life is my foster mum I have now. She cares for me by giving me a lot of support. She give me the love that I need. She provides food, clothes and shelter for me.

After giving the love, care and the things I need, my life is complete. My foster mum cares for me by asking how is school and how I am doing just to make sure I am alright. My foster mother is someone who is really patient, compassionate and loving. Whenever things go wrong, she will find a way out. Whenever ~~she~~ I am down or have problems, I will tell her. She will be my listening ear and she advises me. In this way, I learn from her to be a caring person.

Secondly, my foster mother provides me with the things I need. She provide clothes for me, books for me and school materials so that I can go to school and gain knowledge. I can then study properly with proper school material so that I am ready to learn.

Thirdly, my foster mother ~~provides~~ teaches me to be a responsible, hardworking and respectful person as a child, student, sister or even a friend. She always remind me to have confidence in myself and to be careful with what I say by not hurting other people's feelings. My foster ~~mother~~ mother always say, "If you want others to treat you right, you should treat them right too". Her words of encouragement open up my heart and mind to be a better person. My foster mother is someone who always likes to advise someone and help others. As a foster child myself, I feel really blessed and thankful to be in their hands and live together with her.

lastly, my foster mother always reminds me to be independant so that if one day she is not here anymore, I will be able to continue my life by being able to do things on my own and not putting burden on others. I am always sad when she starts talking about her being gone but after thinking twice, her advices is good so that I am able to prepare for the worse. By being independant, she teaches me to cook, do the housechoner and bring me out so that I will be familiar to the places out there.

My foster mum is my everything. Although she is not my biological mother, she is someone who has brought me up well and has made me I am today. I always love her and I really appreciate all the hardwork that she has done for me to make me happy. I do not wish to lose her and if i do, I will lose a part of me that can never be replaced by anyone, for sure. she is someone who ~~has~~ understands me, knows my weakness and the things I love. My foster mother is my mother, best friend and teacher whom I have loved since the day I met her.
